Arizona School for the Arts

A COLLEGE PREPARATORY AND PERFORMING ARTS TRADITION

Inspiring Creative Thinkers and Leaders

MISSION

Arizona School for the Arts inspires creative thinkers and leaders through providing an innovative concentration in college preparation informed by the performing arts.

CORE VALUES:

- High standards and striving for academic and artistic excellence
- Critical thinking, creativity, and innovation
- Collaboration and cooperation
- Community building among students, teachers, parents, and partners
- Faculty modeling and positive peer pressure reinforcing school values

WHAT WE BELIEVE IN

Arizona School for the Arts provides a unique curriculum that interweaves rigorous academics and performing arts. The correlation between playing music and improved cognition is well-documented. However, beyond purely cognitive benefits are the immeasurable long-term social and emotional gains. Performing arts teaches creative problem-solving and builds confidence and inclusivity among students. Our students possess a rare poise, maturity, and civic mindedness for such young ages. ASA graduates are accomplished communicators who are engaged artistically and well-prepared for college, and life.

“We continue to be energized and enlightened by the growing impact our students are making in their school and community.”

Imagine a world where every child received an arts education. What kind of world would that be? Would that world be a little bit like ASA?

In 2018, Americans for the Arts conducted a national survey to understand America's value for the Arts. When Arizonans were surveyed, 82% of us said that the more creative and innovative we are in our jobs, the more successful we are in the workplace. The same is true at school. And beyond personal, professional, and educational fulfillment, the arts provide a common language that has the power to unify us across age, ethnicity, language and gender identity. And as we know – so much more.

Every year we see that power to connect with others amplify exponentially as our students flood the community with their presence. Last year alone, ASA students attended over 4,000 non-ASA arts performance, and actually led over 650 non-ASA arts events. Learning, connecting, questioning, analyzing, problem solving with others. Imagine the impact of our young people – the now and next generation of citizens and leaders.

We continue to be energized and enlightened by the growing impact our students are already making in their school, neighborhoods, and the downtown community. They are not sitting back and waiting to graduate, go to college or get a degree. They are engaged right now. Our young people have lobbied for arts funding at the capitol, spoken during a public hearing to advocate for the Fine Arts Diploma Seal (recently approved by the Governor), gained recognition at the United States Congress for speaking out about childhood cancer, started their own non-profits, and volunteered countless hours to teach, mentor, and connect with young people from different backgrounds. While these are only a few of the many examples we could share about the impact our students are making, we also know that the education and opportunities they receive at ASA are preparing them for the future. Consider:

1. A student involved in the arts is four times more likely to be recognized for academic achievement
2. Low-income students who are highly engaged in the arts are twice as likely to graduate college as their peers with no arts education.
3. 72% of business leaders say that CREATIVITY is the number one skill they are seeking when hiring.

We are so proud to present this 2019 Annual Report to our community and to inspire you to consider an activated world filled with creative thinkers and leaders!

Arts Advocate

We appreciate all of our parent and community volunteers and donors. We apologize if we inadvertently omitted anyone. Please email development@goasa.org.
Thank you.

We are grateful for the ASA images by our amazing community of photographers. Thank you to our creative collaborators:

- Dahl Design Creative Studio
- Keith & Melissa Photographers
- ASA's Yearbook & Social Media Club Photographers
